.NET Developer

Обо мне

Committed to writing clean code, following best practices, and delivering high-performance backend solutions that enhance business value and improve user experience. Always exploring new technologies to stay ahead of industry trends.

Additional information: I'm an ASP.NET developer. I enjoy creating clear, responsive interfaces, developing reliable backend systems, and writing efficient, easy-to-maintain code. I'm inspired by solving complex problems, optimizing performance, and collaborating with a team.

I developed a web application in ASP.NET Core (.NET 8) with a multi-layer architecture and EF Core + PostgreSQL, SignalR, FluentValidation, and Serilog. I implemented authorization, a friend system, real-time chat, file management, and notifications. I have experience in architecture design, creating REST APIs, working with migrations, writing clean code according to SOLID, configuring authentication and logging, troubleshooting, and debugging.
