iOS Lead Developer

Providing estimations on new projects, innovative solutions for accomplishing different tasks

Building and maintaining iOS applications on Swift

“ReadStori” - a language learning educational app helping people enrich their vocabulary through reading short stories. To build this app, I used frameworks: Realm for database, Alamofire for requesting RESTful API, iOS Speech for recognition of spoken words and translation of text into oral speech “Quizl” - Quizl is the next generation of full multimedia live quiz shows where you can play, socialise and win tech and cash prize. In this project I used iOS Speech framework for recognition of answer, Firebase for notification and connecting users in live quiz. CALayer for something custom UI elements.

shops, who want to have quickly and easily an information system for his business, like a subscription. That system includes CRM, Project management, Task Management, Chat, VoIP Telephony (website, server, hosting, liveChat) and offer to clients all of its as an SaaS system. I was responsible for the whole design, development and documentation process of iOS app.

I used CoreData for local storage database, SocktIO framework for working with web sockets (Chat, Task management), Liblinephone library for SIP calls, also used VIPER pattern for app architecture with Swinject framework for dependency injection. For requesting API I used own framework based on result pattern for error handling.
