Python developer

Despre mine

Python Developer with strong experience in building scalable web applications, microservices, and automation tools. I work mainly with FastAPI, Django, and Flask, designing clean, maintainable, and well-tested backends.

I have solid expertise in databases (PostgreSQL, SQLAlchemy), data scraping (search engines, websites, headless browsers), and API integrations. I've built CRMs, CMF systems from scratch, high-load scrapers, and automation pipelines for publishing content to social networks.

In addition to Python, I actively work with Rust, building high-performance async tools and Telegram bots. I have experience with cloud infrastructure (AWS), Docker, Linux, and frontend technologies, which allows me to deliver full-featured solutions end-to-end.

I value clean architecture, readable code, and practical results.
