Dispatcher

About me

I have over six months of experience working for the U.S.-based logistics company Green State Transportation. I am a calm and composed individual, able to maintain professionalism in any situation, and I possess excellent communication skills.

My strong time-management abilities support effective planning, scheduling, and coordination of drivers and daily operations. I also have solid negotiation skills with clients.

Additionally, I have completed IT Specialist courses and hold international certifications in programming, databases, and device configuration and management, which enhance my ability to work efficiently with computer systems and digital tools.
