Frontend Engineer React / JavaScript / Node.js

About me

Frontend developer with experience in building large-scale React applications, API integrations, and complex business logic. I create modern UI with JS/TS, optimize application performance, and handle non-standard scenarios confidently.

In parallel, I have many years of experience with WordPress/PHP: developing plugins, performing migrations, working with SQL, and improving system performance.

I constantly learn, explore new approaches, and aim to use up-to-date technologies in production.
